The Editor's Corner

Last year has certainly been full of ups and downs, perhaps more downs than ups. Through it all, there is hope that this year might be better and I hope this for the most. Regardless of how hard it gets, we just need to know that tomorrow is a brand new day.

In this 7th Issue of The Dental Mirror, first and foremost I would like to welcome you to the first issue for the year 2021. This issue features events and activities that were held in our faculty for the past three months. Even though many events were held online due to the pandemic, we still had fun.
